

6516206718.txt

It should be our choice to pay for a service and recieve whatever broadcasting we choose. Not to get all political, but this is america... it's about freedom.... especially freedom of choice. The decision should be left to consumers... we pay for it, we want it. If the normal radio stations did a better job and offered the same services and quality that I get through XM, then it wouldn't be an issue.